

New Additions to Macnaught's Metal Reels Range

Stainless Steel Reels

New to Macnaught's metal reels range are two twin pedestal stainless steel reels which handle 1" and 1/2" hoses. These reels are perfect for use in harsh environments where protection against contamination and corrosion is required. With no potential to rust the reels are great for use in the marine industry and off shore applications as well as the food and beverage, dairy and pharmaceutical industries.

Enclosed Metal Reels

Recently new to the range are the enclosed metal reels. Each reel's rugged metal casing protects the hose, adding years to its operating life. Its slim design is also a space saver, especially for multiple reel installation in maintenance workshops. Available in air/water, grease and oil options.
